Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 24 October 2003.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 9/15/04 has been considered by the examiner and made of record in the application file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-11, 16-31, 36-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gallant (US 2002/0137490).

As to claim 1, Gallant teaches a method for selectively blocking outgoing calls (figure 1-3 and paragraph 0062-0067) comprising:

- a) receiving blocking indicia from a subscriber or representative thereof who is associated with a telephony terminal;
- b) establishing blocking criteria based on the blocking indicia;
- c) receiving a first message indicative of a call being initiated from the telephony terminal; and
- d) determining whether to block the call or allow the call to continue based on the blocking criteria.

Art Unit: 2683

As to claim 2, Gallant teaches the method of claim 1 further comprising sending a second message with instructions to either block the call or allow the call to continue based on the blocking criteria (paragraph 0067).

As to claim 3, Gallant teaches the method of claim 2 wherein the second message is sent to a telephony switch supporting the telephony terminal and the first message is received from the telephony switch (paragraph 0061-0067).

As to claim 4, Gallant teaches the method of claim 2 wherein the second message is sent to a telephony server supporting the telephony terminal and the first message is received from the telephony server (paragraph 0061-0067).

As to claim 5, Gallant teaches the method of claim 1 wherein the blocking indicia is received via one of the group consisting of a web interface and a voice interface (paragraph 0054).

As to claim 6, Gallant teaches the method of claim 1 wherein the blocking criteria is associated with a plurality of telephony terminals including the telephony terminal (figure 3).

As to claim 7, Gallant teaches a method of claim 6 wherein at least two of the plurality of telephony terminals are from different types of telephony terminals consisting of circuit-switched wireless, circuit-switched wire-line, packet-based wire--line, and packet-based wireless (figure 1).

As to claim 8, Gallant teaches the method of claim 1 wherein the blocking criteria are configured to block calls to at least one specified called party (figure 3).

As to claim 9, Gallant teaches the method of claim 8 wherein the specified called party is identified in the blocking criteria by a telephony address (figure 3).

As to claim 9, Gallant teaches the method of claim 1 wherein the blocking criteria are configured to block calls based on time or date (paragraph 0051, 0056).

As to claim 9, Gallant teaches inherently the method of claim 1 wherein the blocking criteria expire after a defined period of time (paragraph 0051, 0056).

As to claim 16, Gallant teaches the method of claim 1 wherein the blocking criteria are configured to block calls that are not directed to at least one identified called party (figure 3).

As to claim 17, Gallant teaches the method of claim 1 wherein the blocking criteria are configured to block calls to telephony addresses meeting defined wildcard criteria (paragraph 0014).

As to claim 18, Gallant teaches the method of claim 1 wherein the blocking criteria are configured to block calls that are at least one type of call (paragraph 0037, 0063).

As to claim 19, Gallant teaches the method of claim 1 wherein the blocking criteria are configured to require a plurality of conditions to be met prior to blocking the call (paragraph 0013, 0014).

As to claim 10, Gallant teaches the method of claim 1 further comprising sending instructions to provide an audible message to a caller at the telephony terminal when the call is blocked (paragraph 0008).

As to claim 21, the claim is a system claim of claim 1; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 1.

As to claim 22, the claim is a system claim of claim 2; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 2.

As to claim 23, the claim is a system claim of claim 3; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 3.

As to claim 24, the claim is a system claim of claim 4; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 4.

As to claim 25, the claim is a system claim of claim 5; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 5.

As to claim 26, the claim is a system claim of claim 6; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 6.

As to claim 27, the claim is a system claim of claim 7; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 7.

As to claim 28, the claim is a system claim of claim 8; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 8.

As to claim 29, the claim is a system claim of claim 9; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 9.

As to claim 30, the claim is a system claim of claim 10; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 10.

As to claim 31, the claim is a system claim of claim 11; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 11.

As to claim 36, the claim is a system claim of claim 16; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 16.

As to claim 37, the claim is a system claim of claim 17; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 17.

As to claim 38, the claim is a system claim of claim 18; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 18.

As to claim 29, the claim is a system claim of claim 19; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 19.

As to claim 40, the claim is a system claim of claim 20; therefore, the claim is interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 20.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 12-15, 32-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gallant.

As to claims 12-15, Gallant teaches the method of claim 1, Gallant fails to teach the blocking criteria are configured to block calls based on: financial authorization and further comprising accessing and using financial records to help determine whether to block the call or allow the call to continue, at least one called party when financial authorization is not provided, whether a pre-paid balance has been exceeded.

Art Unit: 2683

However, the examiner takes Official Notice that these limitations are known in the arts. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the teaching of these recited limitations into the system of Gallant in order to improve the call screen service.

As to claims 32-35, the claims are system claims of claims 12-15; therefore, the claims are interpreted and rejected as set forth as claim 12-15.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

A. Sladek et al (US 6,622,016) teaches system for controlled provisioning of telecommunication services.

B. Jackson (US 6,275,577) teaches call handling.
